Poultry Showmanship

- 1) The bird out of the cage. You will need to know the breed and variety (color), sex (cock, cockerel, pullet, hen), and determine if it is a standard or bantam. Take the bird out head first.

Support the bird with your hand between the bird's legs and under the bird's body

- 2) Show the wattles and comb.

- 3) Spread the wing.

4) Flip the bird over, and show the breast bone by separating the feathers until you see it.

5) Return the bird to its cage head first and conclude by posing the chicken in the cage.
